

UNIVERSITY OF ST. LASALLE

About University of St. La Salle

The University of St. La Salle, inspired by its Founder's vision, continues to develop Christian men and women who are committed to excellence, competent in their professions, and actively involved in the service of their fellowmen towards a more peaceful, just, and humane Filipino society.

On July 5, 1988, the institution was elevated to University status and in 2001 was conferred Autonomous Status by CHED, one among 30 institutions in the country granted this prestigious and esteemed recognition, and has consistently maintained this for almost two decades now.

The University and its stakeholders have collectively earned numerous recognitions and awards. Among these are the Levels 1 to 4 accreditation of various programs granted by the Philippine Accrediting Association of Schools, Colleges, and Universities (PAASCU). The University is also an associate member of the ASEAN University Network-Quality Assurance (AUN-QA).
